

HOLISM OR DETERMINISM?

Are there too many/expensive measurements in the field of conservation of cultural heritage?

International Virtual Workshop

Wednesday 19 January 2022

eman ta zabal zazu

UPV EHU

SAPIENZA
UNIVERSITÀ DI ROMA

SIK ISEA

International Virtual Workshop “Holism or determinism? Are there too many/expensive measurements in the field of conservation of cultural heritage?”

ORGANIZING COMMITTEE

Luigi Campanella (Sapienza University of Rome, Italy)

Maite Maguregui (University of the Basque Country UPV/EHU, Spain)

Francesco Caruso (Swiss Institute for Art Research, SIK-ISEA, Switzerland)

SCIENTIFIC COMMITTEE

Karoline Beltinger (Swiss Institute for Art Research, SIK-ISEA, Switzerland)

Ana Domínguez-Vidal (University of Jaén, Spain)

Irka Hajdas (Swiss Federal Institute of Technology, ETH Zürich, Switzerland)

Rocco Mazzeo (University of Bologna, Italy)

Miguel Angel Respaldiza (University of Sevilla, Spain)

Lucia Toniolo (Polytechnic University of Milan, Italy)

SAPIENZA
UNIVERSITÀ DI ROMA

PROGRAM (All times are indicated in CET)

9:15: INTRODUCTION TO THE WORKSHOP (Luigi Campanella)

MORNING SESSION (Chairman: Francesco Caruso)

9:30-10:00: Chiara Bertolin (Norwegian University of Science and Technology, NTNU, Norway) “Microclimate studies for conservation: keep them simple and understandable without losing in scientific credibility”

10:00-10:30: Maite Maguregui (University of the Basque Country UPV/EHU, Spain) “Beyond data collection in analytical chemistry for cultural heritage”

10:30-11:00: Luca Placidi (International Telematic University UNINETTUNO, Italy) “Deterministic evolution of mechanical damaged-states due to aging phenomena”

11:00-11:30: Break

11:30-12:00: Scott Orr (University College London, UK) and Bhavesh Shah (Victoria and Albert Museum, UK) “Is data science in cultural heritage an opportunity or a challenge?”

12:00-12:30: Noëlle L.W. Streeton (University of Oslo, Norway) “From data to history: How do we get from one to the other?”

12:30-13:00: Gabriele Favero (Sapienza University of Rome, Italy) “Correlation between micro destructive and non-destructive measurements in the case of Cultural Heritage”

AFTERNOON SESSION (Chairwoman: Maite Maguregui)

ROUND TABLE: 15:00-17:00

JoAnn Cassar (University of Malta, Malta)

John J. Hughes (University of the West of Scotland, UK)

María Peraita (Punta Begoña Foundation, Spain)

Merete Winness (Society for the Preservation of Ancient Norwegian Monuments, Norway)

Daniela Ferro (YOCOCU, Italy)

Elisabetta Zendri (Ca' Foscari University of Venice, Italy)

Christian Degrygn (Haute École Arc, Neuchâtel, Switzerland)

Austin Nevin (The Courtauld Institute of Art, UK)

FINAL REMARKS (Luigi Campanella, Francesco Caruso and Maite Maguregui): 17:00-17:30

SAPIENZA
UNIVERSITÀ DI ROMA

International Virtual Workshop “Holism or determinism? Are there too many/expensive measurements in the field of conservation of cultural heritage?”

DETAILS FOR THE CONNECTION (No registration required)

Platform: WebEx by Cisco

You can use the Web App, but we recommend installing the Desktop or Mobile App for a better experience (available operating systems: iOS, Windows Desktop, Mac, Web Browser, Android):

<https://www.webex.com/downloads.html>

Link of the event:

<https://ehu.webex.com/eHu/j.php?MTID=m7646dd5c63116f37cfc81444b74b7cff>

Number of the event: 2732 813 3872

Event password: f9xWdJ6PaP3 (39993567 by phone)

To join by phone:

+34-91215-8236 Spain Toll

+34-917-911283 Spain Toll 2

Access code: 273 281 33872

SAPIENZA
UNIVERSITÀ DI ROMA

